HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1902.

No. 14.

Health is a magnet which irresistibly draws the man to the woman in life's mating time. Health does more than tint the skin with beauty; it puts music into the voice and buoyancy into the step, as well as happiness into the heart. A great many women covet beauty and are constantly seeking aids to beautify them. Let a woman first seek perfect health and all other charms shall be added to her.

There can be no general health for women while there is disease of the delicate womanly organism. The first step to perfect health is to cure womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Female Prescription. It establishes regularity, cures weakness, drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weaknesses.

"I used four bottles of your 'Female Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery'," writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shaver, of Mount Hope, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Every one who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was in perfect health that at times I could not walk. To-day I am cured. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ED LOGSDON,

Moonshiner, Acquitted on One Charge, Arrested on Another.

Had Just Served Sentence of Twenty Months

In the Louisville Jail—Must Now Answer To Green County.

Ed Logsdon, the notorious old moonshiner, was acquitted in the Federal Court yesterday of the charge of shooting at Deputy United States Marshal who were engaged in a raid on the still which he operated, and five minutes later was arrested by Capt. Sullivan, chief of detectives, on a bench warrant from the Green County Court charging Logsdon with malicious shooting.

Before being brought to trial yesterday morning, Logsdon had been in jail for twenty months serving sentence for another offense. Through-out yesterday's hearing, the delivery of the defense and prosecution his nervousness was evident. When the jury filed out he seemed to find the waiting interminable and moved his chair from place to place in the court room in an effort to get near some one who would talk with him on the case. His great dread was that he might have to go back to jail until the next term of the court. Seemingly his most sympathetic listener was Capt. Sullivan, who took a hopeful view of the situation and repeatedly told Logsdon that he'd come through all right.

At the end of an hour the jury filed in, the verdict was asked for and the foreman declared that the jury found the prisoner was not guilty. Court was immediately adjourned and Logsdon, shaking hands with Capt. Sullivan, went to each of the jurors in turn thanking them all for their decision. He thanked all the officers of the court who were still present and then started toward the United States Clerk's office. Through it he passed and then turning to the right moved rapidly toward Judge Evans' office. At the threshold he was stopped by the Judge's Senegambian attendant and turned to retrace his steps. As he did so he found Capt. Sullivan waiting for him. They dropped in casually to each side as he walked and the three passed out into the corridor. As they did so Mr. Charles G. Ritchie, who had defended Logsdon on the charge of which he had just been acquitted, came up to them.

"What's the trouble now?" "It only means that we want Logsdon for trouble in Green county," came Capt. Sullivan's response. "Well, I might as well know this was coming," put in the old moonshiner, and without more ado he went quietly back to the jail from which he thought ten minutes before that he was free at last.

The pathetic side of Logsdon's life was revealed by the manner in which he worked and schemed while in jail to get money for the support of an infant child he had adopted just prior to his arrest. The child is a boy three years old. His father was killed in a mountain battle, and his mother died soon after. While in jail Logsdon shaved his fellow-prisoners at two and a half cents a shave and sold odd tobacco twists and smokers' articles, managing to secure from $1 to $2 a week, which he sent to secure the child's support.

He was the "banker" of the prisoners in No. 9. He had a small box, wherein he kept the pocket money of the prisoners, and guarded it against theft. The bank was robbed but once while Logsdon was president, and he speedily spotted the culprits and made them disgorge. Despite the fact that he is illiterate and can barely write his name Logsdon had kept an accurate mental account of the forty or more deposits in the bank, some of them for eleven cents and other trivial sums. After recovering the money he redeposited it accurately to the satisfaction of all the bank's patrons. This is considered unusual, as prisoners, who, in other parts of the jail, neglect to deposit their money with the turnkeys, almost invariably have it stolen by a fellow-prisoner before they have been there twenty-four hours.

Logsdon left last night for Greensburg in charge of Detective Ross, and despite his long confinement had the jailer's pines and turnkeys good-bye with tears in his eyes.—Courier-Journal.

SAFE BLOWN.

Wednesday Morning About 1 O'clock at I. C. Depot And Riffled of Its Contents.

Masked robbers held up Holmes Proctor, night operator at the depot Wednesday morning about 1 o'clock, took what money he had and what was in the cash drawer, and then blew the safe open and rifled it of its contents. Agent Sloan says the loss will approximate $125.00. A few minutes before the robbery, some one knocked on the ticket window and the operator thinking it was some one from up town desiring to send a telegram, invited them to come around to the private door leading into the office. They did so and walked into the office, masked and with pistols presented. Mr. Proctor thought they were town boys undertaking to play a joke on him. They advanced upon him and when close enough, he said, "I know you fellows" reached out his hand tore the mask from one of their faces, when he discovered his mistake. He was seized by the throat and told another move or that kind would be marked. They then bound his hands, searched him to a box car and fastened him within, one of the robbers remaining on guard and threatening him with instant death if he made any outcry. While this was going on outside, the other two robbers, there were three of them, were attending strictly to business inside. A hole was drilled in the safe, a charge of giant powder put in and touched off, tearing the safe door entirely off, and hurling it across the room. All this work took but a few minutes and when completed the robbers precipitately fled. Mr. Proctor then gave the alarm, and Wallace Kelley hearing his cries, came out and released him. A general alarm was given, but the robbers had disappeared as if the earth had swallowed them up.

The experience was rather a harrowing one for Mr. Proctor, who is quite a young man, and he is not anxious at all to have it repeated.

John L. Mitchell is the man of the hour. He has successfully conducted a campaign of nearly 150,000 poor miners against the aggregated forces of the trusts and the billionnaires. He has never wavered and has never deviated from his simple, honest, loyalty to the cause of the miners. One word from John Mitchell was sufficient to prevent the sympathetic strike of the sort coal miners, which would have deprived the Pennsylvania strikers at once of public sympathy, and of means of sustaining the struggle. He could have stood before the President of the Coal Trust Companies and boasted of his power; he could have retorted with burning words of indignation when they tried to nag him into angry passion by cruel slanders upon himself, and his organization; but not for an instant did John Mitchell lose his temper or forget what he was striving for.

He did reply to the slanders of the Trust bullies, who talked like town toughs and behaved like esds; and his reply was a calm, dignified denial of their charges, and a challenge to them to prove their assertions. He offered to resign if they would prove their charges and the bullies slunk away. He could declare his individual power to end the strike upon the acceptance of the proposal for arbitration that he has offered for four months past, but he is modest, and he defers to the regularly constituted authorities of the labor organization. He assumes no authority but what is given him; he has no interest but to serve the 150,000 miners who trust him implicitly. He has won the fight and he has made organized labor a greater power in the United States than it ever was before in the world's history.

In the future the Commercial hopes that John Mitchell may give the government of the United States the help of his wonderful intellect and superb judgment in fixing the relations of capital and labor upon sound and equitable basis. The business interests of the United States could better trust in Mr. Mitchell's honesty and judgment than in the overbearing insolence and greed of those trust magnates who have ingloriously failed in their avowed efforts to crush organized labor in this country. And if Congress will act as he would advise, and as he has demanded, the corporations that have menaced the people in every walk of life, will be made servants rather than masters of the public that creates them, and by whose power they exist.—Louisville Commercial.

WORST

COAL WRECK IN YEARS. Eleven Big Barges of Fuel Sunk Near Catlettsburg.

River's Channel Is Blocked And May Not Be Cleared.

Catlettsburg, Ky., Oct. 18.—The worst coal wreck ever seen on this part of the Ohio river took place just before daylight this morning at Twelve-mile, dyke, two miles above this city.

The towboat Gleaner was the flagship of the great fleet now southward bound, closely followed by the Fred Wilson with twenty-two barges. In some way the Wilson missed the channel a little, and the front barges struck the submerged dyke. In the confusion that followed eleven of the twenty-two barges were sunk, about eight of them being directly in the channel and the other three just below the dyke. The other eleven barges floated down by this city, but were finally picked up by the Fred Wilson, whose crew worked like Trojans to save the remainder of the fleet.

The steamer Joseph Walton, in command of Capt. James Woodward, was just behind the Fred Wilson, and sent word out here to Capt. Kilker, of the local wharf to notify the towboats following to "double up" past the wreck. Word was also sent at once to Huntington, and all passing boats are being notified.

The remaining seventeen boats of the big coal fleet have not yet succeeded in getting by the wreck. Capt. Suter, of the Passenger steamer Greyhound, just arrived, says the channel is completely blocked, and that it is the worst coal wreck ever seen on this part of the Ohio, while 150,000 bushels of coal being piled up in midstream.

The remainder of the fleet will do well if they work by the wreck today, as only a few barges can be taken by at a time. Some large charges of dynamite have been used this morning, and the channel may be cleared by tonight.

The Ohio is 10.5 feet, and was rising at 8:30 a. m.

A Typical South African Story. O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Standers River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle of an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to whom I sell everything from the most common necessities of life to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists.

Deed Issued by Patrick Henry. A parchment deed issued by Patrick Henry, as Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, 116 years ago, is a highly prized relic owned by H. C. Smith, of this city. Smith bought the old deed for a song from John Conway, a grandson of John Conway, to whom it was originally issued in consideration of a Treasury warrant. It conveyed 1,000 acres in North Central Kentucky before that State was admitted to statehood. Shortly after receiving the deed John Conway was captured by the Indians, according to Smith's story, and carried away to a Northern State and held captive for twenty-four years. When he returned to Kentucky he found most of the 1,000 acres in possession of others, though he managed to secure another deed for several hundred acres, a part of which is held by his descendants.—Lexington Democrat.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Saved His Boy's Life. "I believe I saved my (nine year old) boy's life this winter with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says A. M. Hoppe, Rio Creek, Wis. "He was so choked up with croup that he could not speak. I gave it to him freely until he vomited and in a short time he was all right." For sale by all druggists.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY.

Davless County Boy Dragged Three Hundred Yards by a Mule.

Owensboro, Oct. 17.—David Dixon, aged fifteen, was killed in a runaway near Falcon yesterday evening. The boy had been plowing for wheat and when he quit work mounted a mule and started home. The mule ran, and threw him, the boy's feet becoming fastened in a chain. For three hundred yards the lad's head was dashed against the ground, stones and stumps and when the animal stopped at a watering trough, the boy was dead, his skull being crushed in many places, and his face being unrecognizably torn.

YERKES

Coming To Aid Republicans In Campaign.

Also Will Receive Some Needed Patching.

Washington, Oct. 18.—In response to the urgent appeals of the managers of the Republican campaign in Kentucky, Revenue Commissioner Yerkes has consented to make a number of speeches in the State within the next two weeks. It was pointed out to Mr. Yerkes by his friends that the party was very much in need of his services, and, in addition, his gubernatorial boom would be likely to suffer should he remain here in Washington during the progress of the campaign. Mr. Mr. Yerkes has not yet fully decided where he will make his speeches, but the Ninth and Third Districts with receive the major part of them. In the former district, he will speak at Louisville and Greenup, while in the Third district Bowling Green will be selected, among other points. Mr. Yerkes will also speak in Newport, advocating the election of the Republican Court of Appeals candidate.

Any druggist who looks more to the health and welfare of his friends and customers than to the increase of his prescription trade, will recommend Ramon's Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets for attacks of constipation and biliousness. They are far better than strong drugs and much cheaper than prescription bills. G. C. McClure & Son, the leading druggists of Gallup, Ky., write: "Ramon's Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets have proved to be the most popular and satisfactory medicine we ever handled." A trial will convince you of their great superiority over ordinary liver pills. 25 cts. J. H. Williams.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce W. T. OWEN, of Hartsville county, as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the Sixth Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Judge Settle signed the petition calling on Goebel to contest Taylor's election.

An exchange refers to Spain as a sleeping nation. Perhaps it is, but Schley and Dewey certainly made noise enough to disturb its rest.

ALFRED AUSTIN, England's Poet Laureate, has written a poem, entitled, "Good Night." This is very encouraging if he is only in earnest.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's amicable settlement of the great anthracite coal strike, settles any doubt that might have existed about his re-election.

The good times of 1902, when a lot of boys brought $20, will long be remembered—Morgantown Messenger.

And still, neighbor, you are going to vote for a change. Let us advise you not to do it.

We understand Mr. Thomas Pettit, of Owensboro, is going to make some speeches in Ohio county. Mr. Pettit's politics is like certain market quotations, subject to change, and we do not know which party he is going to speak for.

JIM YOUNGER, of the notorious James Gang, who served seventeen years in the Minnesota penitentiary for the famous Northfield raid, drew an overdraft on time a few days ago and went up to make a final account on eternity's register. Younger was paroled only a few months ago, and suicided because he could not legally marry the woman he loved.

We publish elsewhere in this issue resolutions adopted by the recent Teachers' Institute, which, among other things, asks the Ohio Fiscal Court to allow the County Superintendent a salary of a $1,000 a year. Considering the qualifications and the work required this demand is entirely reasonable and should command the attention of the court.

A Texas court made a record for expediting justice, a few days ago, that will not be soon excelled. A negro rapist was brought into court, a jury impelled, a plea of guilty entered on the record, a sentence of death imposed and the execution executed all within less than an hour. But then there was a mob of a thousand men standing about the court house demanding a speedy trial.

A Democratic State Board of Election Commissioners and the Supreme Court of the State said the republican candidates for State offices were elected; an inflated partisan legislature, made up chiefly of insignificant individuals, said the Democratic candidates were elected. If the former were right, Judge Pratt is holding an office to which he was legally elected and the Democratic State officials are usurpers; if the latter were right the reversal is true. Does not this statement argue itself?

This frequency with which rapists meet death at the hands of mobs, measures the price mankind puts upon woman's virtue. The murderer is allowed the tedious delays of the courts and too often to escape the penalty of his crime, but the brute who assaults a woman, needs to prepare for the impatient wrath of men. Even the libertine, unless he be wholly abandoned, reverences woman's virtue and will stain his hands with the villain's blood who dares to violate it. Knowing the price that men put upon woman's virtue, it is difficult to understand how any of them could cast such a priceless pearl to the winds.

THE great Pennsylvania anthracite coal strike was ended at 11:35 a. m. Tuesday. The miners and operators agreed to submit their differences to an arbitration commission to be appointed by President Roosevelt. Never before in the history of the country has a question of such magnitude been left to the adjustment of a President, and President Roosevelt should regard this a greater honor than his elevation to the Presidency. The appointment by the President of a Brigadier General of the army and a Bishop of the Catholic church on the arbitration committee, will inspire the miners and the country with a confidence in an amicable adjustment of the questions at issue that will put the matter at rest. All honor to President Roosevelt, the great guardian of the rights of the rich and the poor.

No true Kentuckian recalls with pleasure the dark days of the winter of 1899 and 1900 at Frankfort. We love peace and should be glad to let those scenes be forgotten, but they cannot be while the cold, still corpse of Governor Taylor's wife sleeps in a strange cemetery, denied the poor privilege of being brought home, attended by her husband and children, and being buried beside her babes that sleep, quiet and still, happily unconscious of mother's death and father's misfortune, in the old family graveyard at Morgantown. No sane Kentuckian believes that Governor Taylor had any part in Senator Goebel's assassination, and every Kentuckian who loves justice and right should think solemnly of this sad scene election morning and vote to right this wrong. This poor woman, who was driven to her death by vicious partisan hatred, could never know how her good name and that of her family had been redeemed, but Kentucky's honor would be reclaimed.

THE case of Caleb Powers, rightfully Secretary of State of Kentucky and wrongfully a prisoner in the Georgetown jail, has but few parallels in civilized history—the most noted one was perhaps the Dreyfus case which won for France the contempt of mankind. Mr. Powers has now been in jail for three years upon a charge of conspiracy to murder Senator Goebel, not only charged but adjudged guilty in a partisan court and given a life sentence in the penitentiary, and, notwithstanding all of this, the best lawyers in the State are volunteering his defense without money and without price; the best women in the State are going here and there soliciting contributions for the prosecution of his appeal, and the best men in Kentucky, men who are loyal to the country and its laws, men who would sacrifice their lives for the peace and order of the Commonwealth, men whom no man worthy the name of man would accuse of condoning crime, are giving their hard earned money for his defense. Will the prosecutors of Caleb Powers cite a case in any civilized country where a guilty prisoner received general and generous contributions from the respectable elements of society for his defense? The election of a Republican Court of Appeals is necessary to the meeting out of justice to this outraged man.

Pratt's Speech.
Seldom have the people of Ohio county had an opportunity of listening to such a clear, logical and scholarly presentation of facts, as that to which they were treated here Monday. Although Attorney-General Pratt was delayed and did not reach Hartford until 3:20 p. m., the greater part of the people waited patiently until he came. The Morgantown Brass Band arrived in town early in the day and furnished excellent music for the occasion. Gen. Pratt was listened to with the most profound and rapt attention throughout his entire speech. Never once did he descend to the vulgar level of the demagogue. Throughout his speech was remarkable for its clear logic and polished oratory. He said that a sober, second-thoughtless following an outburst of passion; that a new day was dawning for the Republicans of Kentucky and the rainbow of promise was already in the sky. His speech was remarkably free from vituperation and abuse. His audience was made up of representative voters from all over the county, and they testified their high appreciation in the most liberal applause. He made a strong appeal to the voters to re-elect Guffy.

Gen. Pratt is a man of the finest personality possessing in a rare degree, the elegant manners of a gentleman and the splendid intellect of a finished scholar. He made many friends here and gave new life to the appellate race. Many Populist and Independent voters were in his audience and showed, by their approval of his speech, that the Independent vote here is a unit for Guffy.

Resolutions.
"We, the teachers of Ohio county, in body assembled, feeling that an expression from us would interest all who have the cause of education at heart, do hereby adopt the following resolutions:

"Resolved, 1. That the moral standing of the teacher should be above reproach. That every true teacher should disparage the use of profane language, social drinks, or any of the habits which tend to lead the young from the paths of rectitude, both by precept and example.

"Resolved, 2. That the teaching profession should discountenance any teacher who would attempt to secure a school through bribery of trustees by buying fuel, etc., or by proposing to teach a longer term than required by law, or bribery of any kind.

"Resolved, 3. That in consideration of the fact that the 129 schools of Ohio county require the constant and careful attention of the Superintendent and his compensation is less in proportion to his responsibilities than any other county official, we urge the Fiscal Court to allow him $1,000 compensation per year for his services, so as to enable him to devote his entire time to the interests and welfare of the public schools of Tightly Locked From Nervous Spasms.

Physicians Could Not Prevent Fits.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure My Wife.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure has been successfully tried in thousands of cases of nervous disorders, but never has it made a better record than when used in the treatment of fits or spasms. Thousands of testimonials prove this, and in nearly every instance the writer has stated that the fits ceased after the first dose of Nerve Cure was given. The statement is repeated in the following:

"Seven years ago my wife commenced having spasms or fits and I called in my home physician and he said she was paralyzed. He rubbed her with salt water and gave her calomel and the eventually got some better, but in a short time she had another attack. She was confined to her bed for three months and the doctor could not help her. She had fits frequently, sometimes very severe. Her hands would clasp so we could not open them and she finally got so her jaws would become locked. Finally I saw the doctor was doing her no good and ordered a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. She received so much benefit from the first bottle that I got some more. She has taken a number of bottles but has never had a fit since taking the first dose. She also thinks very highly of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and is never without them. If there is any way of making this testimonial stronger do so because of the good the Dr. Miles Restorative Nerve did my wife."—Wm. V. ALLEN, P. M., Elkville, Miss.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE

Five Deputy Sheriffs Capture Lud Grant Near Trisler.

About 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, five deputy sheriffs surrounded a logging camp, near Trisler, and captured Lud Grant, who is charged with cutting and wounding J. W. Klordon, at a picnic, near Shreve, three years ago.

In a fight at the picnic referred to, Grant inflicted a number of ugly knife wounds on the person of Klordon, which came very nearly putting out the life of the latter. At the next sitting of the grand jury, Grant was indicted for malicious cutting and wounding, but succeeded in eluding arrest until Tuesday night.

Shortly after midnight, Tuesday evening, Deputy Sheriffs J. G. Keown, Clarence Keown, Flem Stevens, J. H. Roberts and Marshal Sam O. Keown, of Fordville, had a concerted meeting near Trisler and proceeded to the home of young Grant, but not finding him there, the officers went to the logging camp of Louis Grant and surrounding the camp, effected his capture without difficulty.

The officers manacled their prisoner and brought him to Hartford, arriving here about 6:30 Wednesday morning and landed the prisoner in jail.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Itching Skin

Distress by day and night—That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this itching, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

"I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since." Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills rid the blood of all impurities and cure all eruptions.

Colored Faith Healer.

Prof. Henry Davless, the colored faith healer, of Owensboro, honored us with a call Tuesday.

Prof. Davless talks interestingly of his miraculous powers to heal, but, strange to say, confines his healing art wholly to the case of rheumatism and warts.

We were anxious to test the Professor's art of healing and offered him a fancy price to remove some corns from our toes, but he drew the line at corns.

Prof. Davless says he discovered his miraculous powers by a special inspiration. That he was sitting on a log in the woods looking at some warts on his hand, when it suddenly occurred to him that he could remove them, and that he proceeded to invoke the divine power to take away the warts and they suddenly disappeared like a tickle in a slot machine.

Prof. Davless would not explain to us why he made a specialty of rheumatism, but says his method is to take hold of the hands of the rheumatic and that the palms immediately come out of the patient into him. It really looks strange to see Prof. Davless healthy man when he has a stream of rheumatism pouring constantly into his body like a river into the ocean.

Prof. Davless will return to Hartford in a few days for the practice of his divine art. If we can possibly do so, we shall persuade him to include corns in his line of treatment.
